triple points on outside of body

3. When person Hooding students ("hooder") takes the hood from the right arm, student turns left 90 degrees to face audience. Hooder places collar over the top of the student's head from the back and lowers collar to the student's shoulder. "Hooder" opens and folds back black lining against student's back to reveal colors. "Hooder" taps student's right arm and student turns back 90 degrees to right and shakes hooder's hand and proceeds across the stage.
