John Wilk, Training Specialist

The Office of Inspector General (OIG) ensures integrity, accountability and public confidence in PA Government by preventing, investigating and eliminating fraud, waste, abuse and misconduct within all agencies under the jurisdiction of the Governor. The Bureau of Fraud Prevention and Prosecution (BFPP) is responsible for investigating welfare fraud, and conducting collection activities for programs administered by the Department of Human Services.

The OIG partners with DHS, federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies; and district attorneys' offices. These partnerships ensure that only the truly needy receive benefits, and that the integrity of the commonwealth's public assistance programs are maintained.

The OIG takes a two-pronged approach in the fight against welfare fraud by focusing on its Field Investigation and Fraud Investigation Programs.

Field Investigation Program: works in conjunction with DHS caseworkers to help ensure that only individuals who are truly eligible for assistance receive benefits;

Fraud Investigation Program: focuses on individuals who have wrongfully obtained assistance benefits, and ensuring that they are held accountable for their unlawful acts.

The Office of Inspector General's Internship Program provides students the opportunity to apply for both investigative and information technology internships, giving them practical job experience in their chosen fields. In addition to the experience, the internship gives students the tools to help decide their career paths.
