

Julie R. Ancis is a Distinguished Professor and former Interim Chair in the Department of Informatics and Founding Director of the Cyberpsychology Program at the New Jersey Institute of Technology. She is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association (Divisions 17, 35, and 46) and has been active in leadership roles in the APA and other organizations, such as serving as Chair of APA's Society of Counseling Psychology's Section for the Advancement of Women. She has received a number of awards and honors, including Woman of the Year from the Section on the Advancement of Women.

Dr. Ancis' extensive scholarly publications include 4 books, over 80 journal articles, book chapters, and technical reports; and over 200 professional presentations focused on diversity, multicultural competence, the legal system, and human-computer interaction. She currently has two books in progress with Wiley, one focused on antisemitism and psychology.

Dr. Ancis is the founder and president of Psychologists Against Antisemitism, established in May 2021. Her current research is on online antisemitism.

Free and Open to the Public

The Center for Holocaust and Jewish Studies
presents

The Surge of Antisemitism in Psychological Organizations: An Analysis

Friday,
February 7, 2025
Noon

Via webinar - Register using the QR code or at bit.ly/4gA3iVo

For additional information contact
Hannah Lair at chjs@psu.edu.

PennState
Harrisburg

777 West Harrisburg Pike, Middletown, PA 17057

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. UBR HBG 25-01